Credit Directives – core principles for our banking business

Defence equipment

“We will not consider any involvement in transactions connected with specific types of weapons, in particular antipersonnel landmines, cluster bombs or ABC weapons.”...

Pornography/“Red Light Area”

“Deutsche Bank will not enter into business relationships with counterparts belonging or being close to the pornographic sector or adjacent areas (red light area).”...

Betting & gambling industry

“We specifically do not want to be connected to counterparties within this industry which show signs of proximity to problematic areas (e.g. red light sphere) or which are prone to serve as basis for illegal activities, as for example the handling of cash entails the possibility of money laundering.”...

Environmental issues

“Deutsche Bank regards the responsible treatment of the environment as an integral part of its corporate identity. [...] In addition to complying with the legal provisions relating to environmental protection, we undertake to protect natural resources such as air, water, and soil. [...] We will not finance certain globally banned products, e.g. CFC, asbestos.”...

Embargos & related restrictions

“All European embargoes apply to the entire Deutsche Bank Group. In addition, local regulations that go beyond the restrictions introduced by the EC have to be followed by those directly affected thereby.”....

“Green Filter” – special focus on carbon intensive industries

Green Filter Question – part of the Reputational risk management program policy

Does the transaction relate to activity which may be described as harmful to the environment?

Is the transaction consistent with the Bank’s aspiration to be a leader in the transition to a low-carbon society?

Is the transaction consistent with the Bank’s intention to contribute to greater carbon efficiency – accepting that in some circumstances it will still be necessary to finance carbon intensive industries as the transition to a low carbon society?

Does the risk extension facilitate a commercial business activity that increases the “carbon footprint” of a counterparty active in the areas of coal, forestry, agriculture, mining, cement or chemicals sector?

Are the economics of the transaction likely to be materially affected if anticipated changes to the regulation of greenhouse gases are introduced?

▶ Deutsche Bank’s climate strategy is the foundation of the “Green Filter”

Cautionary statements

This presentation contains forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are statements that are not historical facts; they include statements about our beliefs and expectations and the assumptions underlying them. These statements are based on plans, estimates and projections as they are currently available to the management of Deutsche Bank. Forward-looking statements therefore speak only as of the date they are made, and we undertake no obligation to update publicly any of them in light of new information or future events.

By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties. A number of important factors could therefore cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. Such factors include the conditions in the financial markets in Germany, in Europe, in the United States and elsewhere from which we derive a substantial portion of our revenues and in which we hold a substantial portion of our assets, the development of asset prices and market volatility, potential defaults of borrowers or trading counterparties, the implementation of our strategic initiatives, the reliability of our risk management policies, procedures and methods, and other risks referenced in our filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Such factors are described in detail in our SEC Form 20-F of 16 March 2010 under the heading “Risk Factors.” Copies of this document are readily available upon request or can be downloaded from www.deutsche-bank.com/ir.

This presentation also contains non-IFRS financial measures. For a reconciliation to directly comparable figures reported under IFRS, to the extent such reconciliation is not provided in this presentation, refer to the 4Q2010 Financial Data Supplement, which is accompanying this presentation and available at www.deutsche-bank.com/ir.
